

With the passing of the law in NJ that would allow me to join a "do not call" registry, the invasion of my privacy via my telephone has been virtually eliminated. I still have unwanted and unsolicited calls but not to the extent I previously had. Some of these calls appear to be "generated" by a computer as they do an immediate "hang up" - with no conversation whatsoever - when I pick up the phone to answer. Please keep the law as it is in NJ. My time is valuable too.
